Case Studies

The Challenge
At the age of eight, Aaron sustained a serious brain injury after being involved in a road traffic accident. As he grew older, he required support to develop independence, access his community, and manage daily living activities.

Our Support
Alcedo Care provides tailored support to help Aaron manage everyday tasks, take his medication, maintain his home, and participate in activities he enjoys. Our team also supports him to build friendships and stay connected with his local community.

The Difference
With regular support, Aaron has become more active and involved in social opportunities, including playing football each week with peers who share similar experiences. Consistent encouragement and companionship have helped him grow in confidence and independence.

A Positive Future
Aaron continues to develop important life skills while enjoying greater freedom and choice. The support he receives not only benefits him, but also provides reassurance and reduces pressure for his family.

> “It's helped me a lot with different support, and I enjoy having someone there to talk to and spend time with. It’s less stress for my Mum and Dad too, so they don’t have to worry about me.”
